

I've Dreamed I Had A Dream

Music by Christian Willisohn

Lyrics by Alexandra Mayer

I woke up this morning cause I had a bad dream I dreamed I was uglier than Mr. Bean had rottin' teeth in my mouth and almost no hair a chin like Angie and ears like Tony Blair wore an old black suite and a foolish cap a weight of 180 pounds, that's a matter of fact.

I dreamed I waisted my life as A bluesmusician that's anything else but a good position beggin' for gigs and grabing at money having eggs without ham and bread without honey women that see me changing side of the road I don't have too much friends, cause I smell like a goat.

I went to the bathroom and turn on the light what a terrible dream, what a horrible night but my head in the mirror didn't show any trace I saw my Richard Geere's ass and my Brad Pitty face the most beautiful man in the world of all what a terrible noise, I heard the wakeup call
